2. The Overflight Pilot Selection Panel was convened on 15 September 1966 to consider the over-all suitability of [redacted] as pilots for the OICART program. They were initially selected by members of the Operations Staff/OSA as officers possessing the required technical skills and experience. They have now completed the extensive physical and psychological examinations as well as the full security investigation. The panel considered each officer from the over-all standpoint of security, physical and mental health and operations, and unanimously agreed both are well qualified to enter the program.
